

Those Three Strange Celebration Dark Holidays

By the end of October month, the fourth Thursday of November, and the 25th of December month, are all three strange celebration holidays. Americans claimed those days were the spiritual observances' special days. They show this as a time to get ready for the spiritual joyful time of the year. Starting with Halloween then Thanksgiving and then Christmas.

The reason I, Bro. Pouliot called those days "strange" celebration holidays, not only how America but also in some areas around the world who also observe and practice those spiritual observances on special days. Literally, believe this special spiritual joyful time of the year or not. Whether they believe these three celebration holidays are connected to spiritual things, or not, they still do it for fun in their own pleasure time.

Speaking of spiritual insight into how people think and feel. Spirituality as people defined this generally is an individual's search for ultimate or sacred meaning and purpose in life. Additionally, it can mean seeking out or searching for personal growth, being involved with religious experience, and even believing in some supernatural realm or afterlife, or making sense of one's own "inner dimension". Some people do believe in this different description of spirituality in a different view or not, still perform those three strange celebration holidays.

Most people do not realize that those three holidays have evolved over time. It's originality fundamentally through the Christian's era. Because priests are always involved with these customs on Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. For how Halloween was originally from the Celtic holiday of Samhain, Christmas was originally from the celebration birth of the Indo-European deity Mithra, the sun-god, and Thanksgiving was originally from the mark of the brutal victories over the Native people, like the Pequot Massacre of 1636 or the beheading of Wampanoag leader Metacom in 1676. Priests often time supported and prayed for their soldiers against the evil one.

The civilized often don't realize what kind of beliefs these ancient or present priests follow and practice turn out to be evil way. In other words, those priests and/or those who follow and worship Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas holidays are all paganism cult believers. Even those who say they are not a religious person, still worship something like a cult spiritually proforma way to celebrate. Plenty of atheists don't celebrate the consumption of religious aspects of holidays like Christmas, Easter, or Halloween but many of them still get into those holiday spirits anyway.

The only thing I, Bro. Pouliot noticed, that they won't practice the Seventh-Day weekly Sabbath appointed day holiday and the seven annual Sabbatical appointed time holiday. Such as the Sacrifice of Peace Offering, Festival of Unleavened Bread, or Day of Atonement, which  $\aleph\aleph\aleph$  created those holidays and commanded HIS people to remember these appointed day holidays. They would rather celebrate Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas holidays.

This is why I called this a "strange" celebration holiday(s). What is also strange about this, is whether the atheists or non-atheists always argued against the Biblical believers who believe in the Creator spiritual ONE, who created the heavens and earth. Saying that there is no such God (the Supreme spiritual ONE) who made everything. They believe in more of the scientist "Big Bang" theory way.

The whole troubling point here is, whether the atheists or non-atheists people who always say "there is no spiritual God", are also worshipping such spiritual things. Like why are they still getting into those holiday(s) spiritual customs anyway? While they are augment with believers who believe in this Bible or Scripture books? Those believers who practice and preform by what  $\aleph\aleph\aleph$  has already commanded HIS people to do the remembering of those appointed time every year which I've recently explained about. While atheists or non-atheists people are doing this Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas holidays is a fun custom thing to do and it can bring us good spiritual time. Like how "strange" is that they doing like - There is no spiritual ..... goodness one, yet I am doing it??? This just don't make any sense right? They are doing such religious "spiritual" customs also, so again, why augment by criticized the believers when they should be criticized themselves.
